

A ICL is a unique establishment which has worked towards unlocking economic freedom and minimized the risks for the medical fraternity. With a robust management with great financial knowledge, the company has introduced various features, which incorporate multiple significant aspects related to medico-legal problems. Providing best indemnity policy and an outstanding coverage for safeguarding the interests of the doctors are the highlights of the services offered by AICL.

OFFERING EXCELLENT MEMBERSHIPS

Steps to being an AICL member are simple. A medical practitioner can avail of the membership facilities by signing up and paying for it. With minimal amount and the extremely affordable charges per day, AICL offers coverage to over 60,000 doctors. They also offer a cover of 24 hours and for every problem which is not covered by any other group in the country. Doctors often pay a price for negligence of their staff, which is also covered under the membership. Providing emergency advice in case of unexpected death of a patient and managing post-death media trials are some of the most important features of the membership, which the doctors can benefit from. Death during transfers or even the false police arrests and false media reports are all well-tackled by the competent team at AICL. With a firm policy that helps maintain the dignity of the profession, the doctors can now feel safe with an organization to guard them through the impasse. A profession which is deemed noble should be treated with respect and this forms the foundation of the membership plan the company offers.

RISK MANAGEMENT

With a dignified profession as that of a medical practitioner, there are numerous unwanted and unexpected setbacks, which can heavily tarnish the image of the doctor involved. These are termed as risks. A risk management program from AICL works toward protecting doctors amidst crisis which may be detrimental to their reputation among their patients. AICL provides a wholesome cover which ensures that any establishment or doctor is defended for unfortunate happenings which were not intended by them. Previous cases are a testimony of how a well-handled case can control the damage caused, whereas mishandled cases can bring down the reputation beyond repair.

AICL takes pride in assisting doctors throughout India in their fight for their rights and for sailing them through the litigations and legal aspects where they were wrongly arraigned for. Understanding the stance of the medical practitioners that they are not liable to be held negligent due to a mishap or mischance, they should be shielded from the misuse of the laws by the people. In the recent times, there have been observations about the disgruntled patients becoming unruly and this has led to a fatal misadventure for the doctor. These are the times when AICL comes to the rescue of the healthcare givers to give them a chance at justice in the court of law. With innumerable judgments in favor of doctors, AICL has proved time and again that an expert advisor can always throw light on the right aspects of a case and show a clear picture about the doctor's righteousness.
