Sai Shraddha Hospitality recognizes the fact that success is not independent of the consumer, and thus the trust earned by the company is far greater than the profits. Their endeavor to provide high-quality equipment, and at the same time cater to every customer's query has put them at the top of their game.

Established in 1996, Sai Shraddha Hospitality has been one of the leaders in the manufacturing and supply of commercial kitchen equipment. Headquartered in Mumbai, Sai Shraddha Hospitality additionally operates from Rajkot and Coimbatore, creating a network to better serve their clients and use resources more efficiently.

FIXING KITCHENS, ONE BURNER AT A TIME

Sai Shraddha Hospitality's array of high-quality products is designed by a team of carefully selected experts, who are highly experienced and specialized in their domains. Teamwork is the key to a flawless series of operations and the team at Sai Shraddha Hospitality works closely with one another to ensure smooth and hassle-free working of the organisation. This helps them to meet their singular objective - maximum customer satisfaction.

Sai Shraddha Hospitality manufactures world-class commercial gas ranges which include the standard single burner range, single bulk cooking range, and the two burner gas range. These products come along with an addition of electric ovens, counter refrigerators, and even electric gas ranges. They believe in building a long-lasting relationship with their customers and thus extend services from as early as the kitchen design process and consultations. Along with customized kitchen equipment, deep freezers, display counters, ventilation and pipeline installations, they provide exceptional after-sales services.

Adding value to kitchens, and standing up to the principles that they boast, Sai Shraddha Hospitality has been involved with realizing dream kitchens on a budget with unwavering quality. This obsession with quality ensures that they procure steel from certified, trusted vendors which meet all the industry specifications. Sprawled over an area of 2500 sq. ft, their research and development wing consists of state-of-the-art facilities that are regularly tested for quality assurance purposes. All the products are manufactured keeping precision as the paramount factor.
